FOREWORD

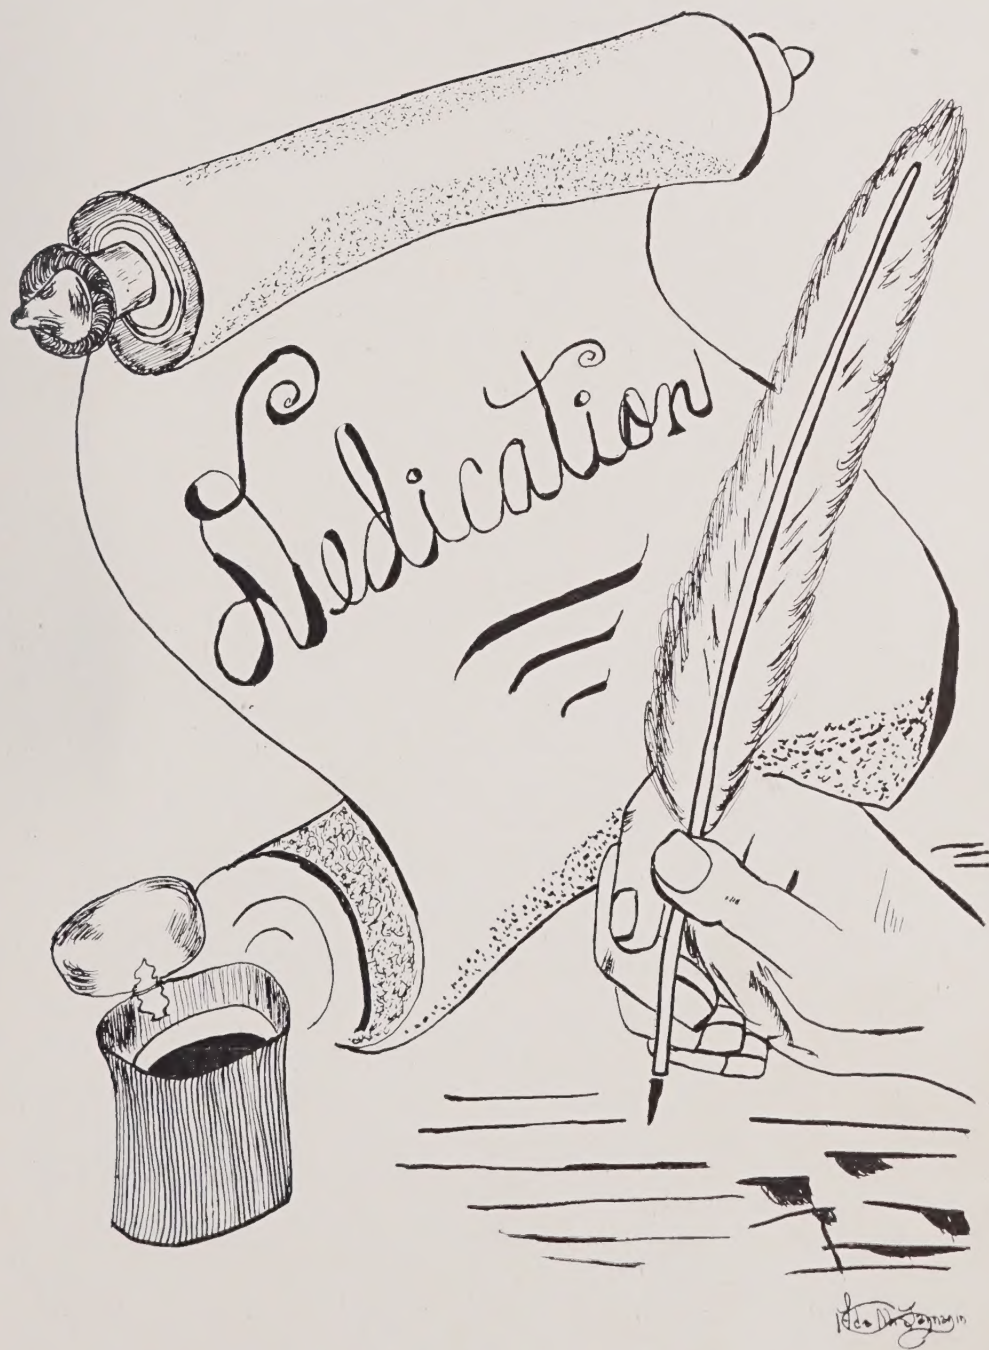

FOLLOWING a tradition of many years, the Class of 1948 is presenting a cross section of the program of activities of Washington High School in its annual, "The Echo."

Members of the class and their sponsors are to be congratulated for bringing to a successful culmination such an ambitious project as "The Echo of 1948." We trust that the record of the year's program will inspire our readers to strive more zealously to make Washington High School grow as a center for the development of civic and vocational competence, character, culture and courtesy.

We wish to join the Senior Class in expressing appreciation to all patrons and friends who helped make this publication possible.

C. H. McLENDON,
Principal.

The high school annual is one of the most effective mediums for publicizing and interpreting the program of the school truthfully to the community. Peruse its pages understandingly and endeavor to interpret it as we planned.

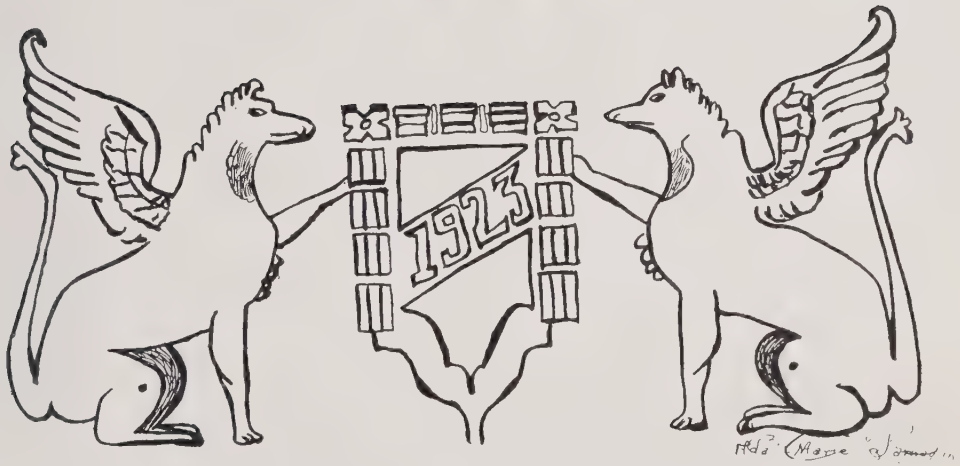

DEDICATED to

Mr. P. H. Williams

We, the Class of '48, sincerely dedicate to Mr. Peter H. Williams our "Treasured Echoes."

Mr. Williams who has done outstanding work in the field of sports, health and physical education, is to be regarded as one of noble character. We feel that he has truly earned a significant place in our own "hall of fame" and that he deserves the admiration of all who know him. May the Senior Class of 1948 remain in his memory as he goes forth in the world through the years to come.

SCHOOL EMBLEM

CLASS SONG

TO THE TUNE: "Auld Lang Syne"

I

Dear Washington, we came to you with hope of great success
And now we leave you after you have given us your best.
We loved you then and always will and praise
forevermore
Your power to lead and guide us on to enter life's great door.

II

Your purpose and your motto we will ever hold in mind
As we go forth from day to day in dealing with mankind.
The work of goodness cannot fail and yours is truly good
You've gained the favor of the world and strengthened brotherhood.

III

Through trial and hardship you've aimed to educate us right
Now you may boast the fact that you have won the worthwhile fight.
The C's you stand for prove to us that Culture is your goal
And Character is quite as great and Courtesy the toll.

Special Dedication to Students

PROMISE YOURSELF—

- To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
- To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every one you meet.
- To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
- To look at the sunny side of everything, and make your optimism come true.
- To think only the best, to work only for the best, and to expect only the best.
- To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
- To forget the mistakes of the past, and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
- To wear a cheerful countenance at all times, and give every living creature you meet a smile.
- To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
- To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Class Poem

We've shared happy moments for many long days,
Now we are parting and shall miss your winning ways.
Love, respect and honor, you have bestowed upon us,
Your teachings we shall e'er hold dear for they surely have been just.

To develop great men and women has been your mighty aim.
Our hearts will swell with joy whenever we hear your name.
God will bless you, for your work has been good.
It was you who gave to us love and brotherhood.

Stand up! Reach out! For you have nothing to fear.
Plant seeds of opportunity in fields of our career.
We shall hear your sweet voice wherever we may be,
Repeating to us your motto: Character, Culture, Courtesy.

By JAMES REVIS.

"A BACKWARD GLANCE"

The past rises before us like a dream. We see ourselves assembling in the Washington Station preparing ourselves for a long journey across the plains of Knowledge. We, the Class of 1948, had collected a goodly amount of necessary baggage in the form of bits of Geography, sections of Arithmetic, bunches of dates fresh from the Tree of History, and a goodly supply of Grammar. Each had the required ticket—a certificate of promotion from the last stop, the Eighth Grade.

Promptly upon the stroke of nine, September 18, 1944, we answered the Conductor's cry of "All aboard!" and started on the upgrade on the Train of Knowledge. We were given places in the "Freshmen" coach and found the train equipped with a fine dining car whose capable chefs supplied us with most of the food for our mental and physical growth. We chose as president of our group Charles Debnam; vice-president, Herbert Mason; secretary, Addie Royster; assistant secretary, Casper Lilly; treasurer, Alton Sharper, and reporters, Owen Nichols and Bernice Cumbo. In the lounge car we went in groups and were assigned special conductors who were: Mrs. L. F. Perrin, Mrs. S. V. Perry, Mrs. E. M. Kelly, Mr. P. H. Williams and Mr. M. C. Hill, who saw to it that we digested the meals served us by the faculty chefs and porters.

At the end of the first year, having successfully met the requirements of freshmen passengers, we were transferred to the sophomore coach. This time conditions were not quite so crowded as some of the passengers had gotten off at the last stop. The president for this trip was Owen Nichols. As helpers he had vice-president, Martha Brown; secretary, Mary Ashe; assistant secretary, Mary Jenkins; treasurer, Thomas Cooke, and reporter, Eleanor Bonner.

We observed that our trip would be made more enjoyable if we would participate in the activities scheduled. There were many to meet our interests and needs. Some of our group were recognized to have special aptitudes which made us very proud of them. Several of our fellow-passengers were found to possess great athletic ability. They were: Johnny Adcock, James Lassiter, Jack Marsh, Samuel McGuire and William Wilder. The journey was livened by frequent stops for a number of parties and occasions of gaiety.

With the passing of time we were again shifted, this time being placed in the junior coach with 130 jolly members of whom passenger Thomas Cooke was elected president, with the assistance of the following: vice-president, James Stallings; secretary, Casper Lilly; assistant secretary, Gwendolyn Haywood; treasurer, Pauline Ray; reporter, Owen Nichols; program chairman, Eleanor Bonner, and social chairman, Charles Debnam.

Side trips were made to the Scholastic Field where 16 passengers were found to possess qualities of character, service and scholarship which granted them permission into the honor society, the Crown and Scepter Club. They were: Georgia Alston, Eleanor Bonner, Martha Brown, Shirley Carney, Thomas Cooke, Clinton Copeland, Viola DeLaine, Jean Eaton, Gloria Hart, Gwendolyn Haywood, Ada Jarnagin, Sarah Morgan, Owen Nichols, Pauline Ray, Margaret Wallace and Margaret Ward. A little farther along the way we made another stop celebrating "Homecoming Day." This, we observed, was a competitive activity and altogether we decided to go in to win—and we did. We had chosen Ressie Curry as our candidate and we reigned supreme when she won the title "Miss Washington High." One of our above mentioned social occasions was the Junior-Senior Prom. With Charles Debnam as our social chairman, many elaborate plans were made for this gala affair, and on the night of May 9, 1947, the prom was held in the school auditorium.

YESTERDAY

Everyone was at his best—the boys handsome and valiant, the girls charming and demure—all in their finest formal attire. It was an event that will long be remembered, for as its theme indicated, it was truly “A Midsummer Night’s Dream.” Having been active in all the activities in which we were allowed to participate, we were satisfied with the years’ accomplishments for we had had among us those who had been especially active in the following activities: Band, Owen Nichols, George Roberts, Alton Sharper, Herbert Chandler, Garland Sewell, James Revis, Julian Frazier, George Branch and Charles Blalock; Glee Club, Sarah Morgan, Willie Fuller, Charles Debnam, Martha Brown, Viola DeLaine, Bernice Alston, Margaret Wallace and others too numerous to mention. In the Y-teens, Sarah Morgan and Eleanor Bonner proved to be most active, attending camp and conference each summer. Space will not permit us to name each club and its members. However, we cannot forget we had quite a few who were active in the Girl’s League, Varsity Club, Camera, Dramatics, Hi-Y, Patrol, Office Staff, Student Council, Homemakers, Social Science, Business Efficiency, Latin Club, French Club, Math Club and the Cheering Squad.

Then came the happy day when the group was transferred to the senior coach with increased privileges and responsibilities, with Thomas Cooke as president. Knowing that the task of leading our group was a great one we elected as his aides: Vice-president, Emma Jones; secretary, Gwendolyn Haywood; assistant secretary, Casper Lilly; treasurer, Pauline Ray; program chairman, Viola DeLaine, and social chairman, Charles Debnam.

Frightened as we were when we entered high school—frightened as we are now with the prospects of the future—we are outward bound across the sea of life. It’s different now—we are better equipped—our luggage is up to date and we come forward with the “new look.”

Though the grade became steeper and the journey rougher, a glorious view met our eyes as we looked out on Commencement Station as it loomed in the near distance. We, who had been companions during the long journey, became even more closely united in spirit.

We, as others before us, undertook the task of publishing the yearbook, THE ECHO, and elected Owen Nichols as editor-in-chief, feeling that he was capable of the position.

Two of our guidance leaders, Mrs. Perrin and Mr. Hill, have remained with us since 1944. Because of their sincere interest in our progress and development and their close relationship with our personal, social and educational activities, we feel very near and dear to them—and only wait for some opportune time to express our deepest gratitude and appreciation.

“Not singly, but together” has been our watchword for the past four years and together the group has waxed sturdy and invincible.

We now stand ready for a final transfer. At Commencement Station, on the Mount of Learning, we leave the senior coach to become passengers on various roads leading through the Valley of Opportunity in the Land of the Great Beyond, to the cities of Success, Fame and Worthy Achievement.

MARTHA BROWN,

MARVIN McQUEEN,

VIOLA DeLAINE,

Historians.

We, the Graduating Class of 1948 of the Washington High School, being indisputably of sound mind and memory and about to pass from this great institution of learning where we have studied and learned, played and had fun, make, publish and declare this to be our last will and testament, and do hereby proclaim all former wills invalid.

Realizing the finality of this, our last date to get this document to the annual staff, we do declare the following:

ITEM I

To the community at large, we bequeath the influence we have been for the honorable and better things of life; the interest in music, in local dramatics, in charitable drives—all these have contributed to the development of the cultural spirit, and in all we have taken part and done our share.

ITEM II

To our beloved parents, in appreciation of their faithful endeavor to secure an excellent high school education for us, we give our immortal love, deepest respect and enduring reverence.

ITEM III

To our dearly beloved high school, we leave our treasured memories, loyalty and ardent affections.

ITEM IV

To our esteemed and understanding principal, we bequeath our best wishes for more success in the coming years for the betterment and prosperity of our dear school.

ITEM V

To our deans and counselors, we leave our regrets for the many headaches we have caused them and our appreciation for the helpful guidance they have given us. We sincerely thank you for your great share in our success.

ITEM VI

To the faculty (long life to every member), we bequeath our high grades, studiousness and in general our genius.

ITEM VII

To our class advisors, Mrs. Perrin and Mr. Hill, we leave our brightest smiles and heartiest cheers plus our hopes that they will be graciously rewarded for their assistance to us in the past four years.

ITEM VIII

To the Junior Class, as our rightful and worthy successors, we bequeath our richest treasures—our senior dignity, our excelling wit, our superlative brilliancy, our charming manners, our splendid grades and our triumphant exit—rare treasures these are! Our valuables—capacity for fun, ability to giggle, our good times, our friendships and our loyalty. Count them among the richest of the legacies you receive.

ITEM IX

To the vivacious and exuberant sophomores, we bestow the power to resist the many temptations that will confront them before graduation.

ITEM X

To the freshmen (those little innocent creatures), we leave the ability to uphold the motto of our school, Character, Courtesy and Culture.

ITEM XI

The following valuable personal bequests, freely and fully given, should be treasured as a continual reminder of the abundant and overwhelming generosity of the class and the individuals thereof. We trust these responsibilities will be assumed promptly and bring important results.

Louise Jordan wills to Ida Hinton her best wishes for success in the coming school days.

George Roberts wills his ability to play the bass horn to Boykin Gartrell.

Grace Hall wills her ability to get along with people to Elizabeth Freeman.

To Willa Guess, Viola DeLaine leaves her seat in the alto section of the Glee Club.

Louise Moore wills to Marguerite Butcher her ability to type.

Dorothy McLeod wills to Julia Ann Sledge her spirit of co-operation and her ability to get along with others.

TODAY

Hazel Adams wills to Dorothy Lee Adams her position on the cheering squad.

To "Scoe" Chapman, "Bear" Wilder wills his popularity among the girls.

Willie Ruth Ragland wills to Clarice Ragland her best wishes for much success in the remaining years of her high school career.

Garland Sewell wills to Charles Thompson his weight.

Letitia Fields wills her position on the cheering squad to Agnes Kelly.

To Yvonne O'Neal, Eleanor Bonner wills her spirit of willing participation in school activities.

Marvin McQueen leaves his height to Thomas Williams.

Ada Jarnagin wills to her sister Audrey Jarnagin her determined effort to study.

To Josephine Russell, Gloria Hart wills her ability to get along with patrols.

Ella Wilder wills to Mae Thelma Adams her seat in chapel.

Elsie Saunders wills her quietness to Jacqueline Allen.

To Josephine Lucas, Martha Brown bequeaths her shorthand ability.

Mattie Cothran wills her height to Geraldine Rogers.

Lewyn Weaver wills his position as major of the patrol force to Donald Morgan.

To Mae Thelma Adams, Owen Nichols wills his position as editor-in-chief of THE ECHO.

Beulah Wilson wills her friendliness to George Adams.

Christine Clarkson wills her seat in typing class to Alberta Gibson.

James Stallings wills his ability to be so shrewd, so tactful and so alert in conduct to remain out of trouble for four years, to all freshmen.

To Patricia Allen, Jeanne Eaton wills her typing ability.

Beatrice Hunter wills her kindness to Gladys Mae Hunter.

Ressie Curry wills her quiet dignity to Josephine Russell.

Adlee Durham wills her personality to Geneva Epps.

To Ruth Debnam, Charles Debnam wills his ability to play the piano, the Hammond and pipe organs.

Bettie L. Jones bequeaths her neatness in preparing a notebook to Mary Helen Jones.

Roland Watts wills his height to Simon Poole.

Cherry Griswold wills her good behavior to William Jeffers.

To Clara Broadie, Constance McNeil leaves her position on the cheering squad.

Fleta Tyson wills her pleasing smile and grin to Arnette Morgan.

Louise McCullers wills her ability to get algebra to Lucille Curtiss.

Belvin Liles wills his tackle position on the football team to Henry Chapman.

To Jethro Robinson, Alton Sharper bequeaths his ability to control his temper.

Josephine Giles wills her large eyes to Paltine Horton.

Mary Frances Pope wills her ability to get along with people to Gertrude Pope.

Georgia Alston wills her ability to read shorthand to Agnes Alston.

To Ruth Debnam, Willie Ruth Fuller wills her ability to sing.

Ruth Jackson wills her seat in chapel to Mamie Joyner.

Marceline Laws wills her legs to Josephine Davis.

Jane Brodie wills her friendliness and good humor to Clara Broadie.

Ruth Bridges wills her one and only dimple to Eula Riddick to make her a total of two.

Daisy Vandergriff bequeaths her ability to get along with people to her sister Inez.

To Victoria Dunston, Frances Dunston wills her first lipstick tube.

Muriel Stewart wills to Lillie Watson her efficiency and ability in typing.

TODAY

Doris Thorpe wills to her niece, Juanita Thorpe, her hard struggle through high school with the hope that she will endure to the end.

Burna Thorpe bequeaths to Catherine Christmas her height and sophisticated air.

To Isiah Mitchell, Mary Lois Ashe wills her ability to turn her lessons in on time.

Pauline Ray bequeaths her ability to control her temper to Louis Ray and her position in the Crown and Scepter Club to Barbara Ray.

Margaret Pope wills her friendliness with other people to Gertrude Pope.

Dorothy Dunn wills to Josephine Davis her dancing ability.

To Cardrienne Perrin, Margaret Ward wills her position as secretary of the Patrol Force.

To Carl Smith, Thomas Cooke wills his position as president of the Senior Class and wishes him much success through patience, understanding and endurance.

Bertha Cooley wills to Mary Cooley her ability to become a senior.

Herbert Chandler wills his musical ability to Douglas Farrar.

Madeline Grissom wills her ability in typing and shorthand to her sister, Catherine Grissom.

To her brother, James Alston, Bernice Alston wills her intellectual ability to become a senior.

Sarah Morgan bequeaths her versatility to Paltine Horton.

To her sister, Evelyn Moultrie, Ernestine Moultrie wills her cheerfulness.

Casper Lilly wills his ability to translate Latin to Claude Watkins.

James Lassiter wills his ability to become a bricklayer to Lawyer Terrell.

To Wayman Hodge, Gwendolyn Haywood bequeaths her scant store of knowledge, and hopes he adds to it and puts it to a far greater use than was in her power.

Lelia Hinton wills her shorthand ability to Garnell Haywood.

Josephine Lanier wills her capability for carrying out the requirements of a senior to Loretta Lanier, who enters high school next year.

To George Mitchell, Spurgeon Fields leaves his ability in loving.

Samuel Patrick McGuire wills his ability to play football to Forrest Wilson.

Any broken pens, stubs of pencils, cast-off notebooks, mounds of gum we were compelled to stick hastily in out-of-sight spots to avoid faculty detection, and other mementoes, we bestow freely upon the finder.

Having signed and sealed this, our last will and testament of the said class on this thirtieth day of January, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, we hereby appoint as sole administrator of this will, our principal, C. H. McLendon, to be administered to the Nth degree.

“A DREAM VOYAGE WITH THE STARS”

It is said that every rose has its thorn, and every joy its undercurrent of sorrow; certain it is that the graduating class of 1948 finds the pleasure of achievement dimmed by the severing of school and class friendships.

All of us have had dreams. It is after graduation that we begin to realize these dreams. We must remember that in order to give reality to the fulfillment of our dreams we must be honest with ourselves, loyal to those we meet, and steadfast to our ideals.

Three high school chums were sitting in the shadow of a great willow tree on the bank of a sleepy little stream on the school yard. It was June, and the leaves were in their freshest green. Emma Jones, James Stallings and Louise Moore are trying to prepare for their coming finals, but their minds refused to be confined to the immediate task. They wandered back over the happy adventures now so soon to end forever; they wandered out over the more strenuous life now so soon to begin. They reminisced, they gossiped, they planned, and out of their reminiscing, gossiping and planning a definite project took form—a Dream Voyage. So engulfed were they that in ecstasy they clasped hands; their minds were tuned together, and three of them fell asleep dreaming of the future.

Nothing shows the power of dreams more clearly than the fact that they cause one to surrender things—the reality of which no one doubts—money, comforts, reputation, life itself. The illustration of this fact is revealed. They recorded as they dreamed—each epic characterizing their classmates as stars twenty years from date.

* * * * *

Dreamland, the echo of a voice is heard—Behold! You are about to see stars, luminous stars revealing the destinies and future fortunes in store for the graduates of 1948. What have we here? A star of bright and glorious beauty—a star that foretells a future of brilliancy and honor. Whose names shine behind this luminous star—Owen Nichols and Gwendolyn Haywood, laboratory technicians on the Committee for Atomic Research. Two stars, no, three, Martha Brown and Madeline Grissom, efficient stenographers at Thomas Williams' Funeral Home in New York City, and Muriel Stewart, private secretary to Lawyer George Roberts.

Another star—Daisy Vandergriff, Burna Thorpe and Gloria Hart, full-fledged nurses on the St. Agnes Hospital staff. Shining brightly by itself is another tiny star—Elsie Herndon has just opened her library on Hillsboro Street.

Two new stars appear. The names so deeply etched in their luminous glow are those of Hazel Adams, who has taken Mrs. E. H. Perry's place in the Washington High School Social Science Department, and Ressie Currie who teaches the first grade in Miss Louise Williams' room.

A star of unusual brilliancy that tells of the “Elite Beauty Shoppe” owned jointly by Bettie L. Johnson and Christine Clarkson.

TOMORROW

Stars! Stars! Stars! How they glow! What wonderful future-fortunes they foretell! Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Walker have just opened a new photographic studio. Mrs. Walker is the former Miss Shirley Carney. Dr. Lewyn Weaver, world famous scientist, has just discovered a cure for cancer and is treating free all who are unable to pay for the expensive treatments. George Branch has developed flat feet from carrying the mail for 15 years, and James Revis is a traveling salesman for James Privette's Comb and Brush Company.

Louise Moore has just opened an accessory shop on Fayetteville Street featuring hats designed by America's top fashion designer, Roberta Jeter.

The Shoe Repair Shop, on Martin Street, operated by Jesse Watkins and Robert Burrell, is a prosperous place of business.

Dr. Jeanne Eaton and Dr. Clemuel High, two of Raleigh's most talented dentists, have new offices in the Professional Building.

New stars are appearing in the heavens. Sarah Morgan, chief director at Morgan Music School, is sponsoring Ruby Thorpe in a musical recital at the Stallings Emporium. This building was designed by Roosevelt McDuffie, one of the world's greatest architects, in honor of Dr. James Stallings for his noted accomplishments in the field of science.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams have just moved into their new home on Fairview Road. Mrs. Williams is the former Doris Thorpe of Raleigh.

Dr. Frances Dunston, world famous pediatrician, is busy curing Mrs. Gloria Hart Lassiter's son, James, Jr., of pneumonia.

What is this? One bright star surrounded by smaller ones. Spurgeon Fields has become a prominent figure in ancient Egypt. He is a well-known polygamist. Some of his wives are Willie McCullers, Louise Jordan, Beatrice Hunter, Margaret Pope, Mary Ashe and Vera Banks. It has been rumored, however, that Mr. Fields is contemplating divorcing his harem and marrying the glamorous Florine Overstreet.

Mrs. Jane Brodie Chandler has just returned from a voyage around the world. The trip was an anniversary gift from her husband, Congressman Herbert Chandler.

Margaret Ward is again ready for Reno and her fifth divorce. It is rumored, however, that she will remarry Charles Debnam as soon as her decree becomes final. Mr. Debnam was her first and third husband.

More stars appear in the sky. Clinton Copeland has taken Fred Fletcher's position on WRAL's morning program, "Tempus Fugit," and Pauline Ray's "Advice to the Lovebirds" program is sponsored by Mattie Cothran's Insurance Company.

Touring the country with Belvin Liles' Stage Show are Hollywood stars Lelia Hinton, Alton Sharper, Ernestine Moultrie; Dancer Constance McNeil; Acrobats Fleta Tyson, Alvis Rhodes, Thomas Smith, and Blues Singer Molangee Jones.

Currently playing at the Ambassador Theater in a Roland Watts production of Richard Wright's Black Boy are Marvin McQueen, Cherry Griswold, Gladys Taylor and Bettie Jones.

Sam McGuire is the new all-American half back for the New York Yankees, while "Bear" Wilder is coaching the Shaw Bears.

TOMORROW

Josephine Lanier has just opened a barber shop on Halifax Street. Letitia Fields is the new comedienne on the Jack Benny show. Her manager and personal advisor is Willie Fuller.

Working on the new Raleigh-Durham highway are Civil Engineer Thomas Cooke and Contractor Julian Frazier.

Viola DeLaine has taken the place of Mrs. E. M. Kelly as music director at Washington High.

Emma Jones is busy studying Dramatics in New York City for her role in the Broadway production of "Begging for Love." Her co-star is Norman Bates.

Lemuel Chalmers is to make his musical debut in Carnegie Hall.

Employed at the White House as government workers are Ruth Jackson, Bernice Alston, Josephine Giles, Bertha Cooley and Dorothy Dunn.

New nurses at McCauley's Private Hospital are Beulah Wilson, Mary Lassiter, Mary Richburg and Georgia Alston.

Mary Pope is naming Willie Monroe in her suit for a divorce from her husband, James Jones.

The new member of Grace Hall's "Sewing Center" staff is Willie Ragland, former elementary school teacher.

Ella Wilder and Bertha Walton are now operating Stark's Beauty College and are doing very nicely in that field.

Eleanor Bonner, famous novelist, has just finished her tenth novel, a love story entitled Leave Me Never. Her private secretary is Margaret Wallace. Adlee Durham is secretary to Sportswriter Casper Lilly.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders have just announced their intentions of moving to California. Mrs. Sanders is the former Mary Jenkins.

Touring the states in an effort to spread inter-racial good will is Ada Jarnagin, world famous composer and pianist.

The stars gradually lost their brilliancy. They slowly disappeared. Then they were gone and once again the sky was darkened.

* * * * *

Stunned by the ecstasy of their dreams with the stars, the chums awoke with this realization, "Great dreams we have had—they not only remake the dreamer, they transform the world" and part with this advice:

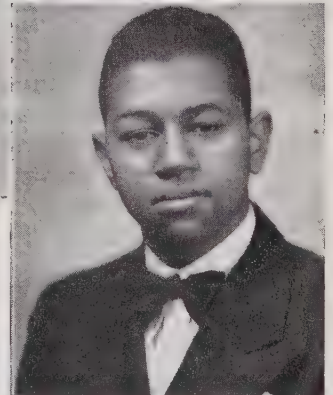

We face a world in which great achievements have been built upon great dreams. Therefore, classmates, entertain great dreams; let them be the promise of richer personalities and a happier world. We can do great things if we greet life armed for battles with reality, lured by the stars that are dreams.

“Selected Sayings”

A Senior to the Principal

“How many books to graduate?”

“Three score books and ten.”

“Can I get there to celebrate?”

“Yes, my anxious Sen—

If your wits are nimble and bright,

You can get there by Commencement night.”

What Does Little Freshie Say?

What does lofty Senior say,

In her seat at close of May?

“Let me fly,” says lofty Senior,

“Washington, let me fly away!”

“Senior, tarry here no longer,

Brains so full can grow no stronger!”

So she hesitates no longer,

But she flies away.

What does little Freshie say,

In her seat at close of May?

Freshie says, like lofty Senior,

“Washington, let me fly away!”

“Freshie, linger three years longer,

Till the little brains are stronger,

If she studies three years longer,

Freshie, too, shall fly away!”

Sophomore's Wail

I don't get any attention,

I'm only a Sophomore;

My name gets never a mention,

To magnify nor deplore.

The Seniors are petted and courted—

Ah, me but that must be fine!

The Juniors don't go unreported,

For they are the next in line.

The Freshies are verdant and funny,

Impossible to ignore;

I don't get the gibes nor the honey,

I'm only a Sophomore.

"Selected Sayings"--continued

The Juniors to the Seniors

Unless you retire,
How can we aspire
To graduate next June?
Unless you step down
And fling us your crown,
How shall we obtain this boon?

As last year's class
Was persuaded to pass,
We hope to prevail upon you;
Our fingers burn,
In our own good turn
To wield the scepter, too.

And then before
The fell Sophomore,
When our power is at its height,
To admit defeat
And sound retreat
On our own Commencement night.

This is the rule
That governs school,
Each June sees a dynasty's close—
The Seniors' short reign
The Juniors but gain,
When the Sophomores rise to depose.

IDEALS - feminine and masculine

THE IDEAL GIRL - - -

In the making of an ideal girl for the Senior Class of 1948, we must take into consideration the statements of Holmes and Lessing: "Nature is in earnest when she makes a woman and nature intended that woman should be her masterpiece." We are earnestly making our masterpiece—our Ideal Girl.

The Ideal Girl will possess the amiability of Viola DeLaine and the velvet-like complexion of Mattie Harris. Her hair will be as wavy as Frances Dunston's and she will have sparkling eyes like Doris Thorpe. Her lips will have that irresistible look like Muriel Stewart's and her height will be equal to Ressie Curry's. Her Venus-like physique will be like that of Emma Jones, and she will have hands as soft and tender as Beulah Wilson's. Her scholastic ability will equal that of Gwendolyn Haywood and her sound judgment will be as good as that of Eleanor Bonner. She will be as alert and vivacious as Roberta Jeter and she will possess Sarah Morgan's singing ability. She will play the piano as well as Ada Jarnagin. She will be as poised as Gwendolyn Haywood and as co-operative as Mary Ashe. She will display Shirley Carney's taste in clothes and her popularity will be as overwhelming as Letitia Fields. Her ambition will be as lofty as that possessed by Pauline Ray, who always strives to do her best.

That's not all, my friends. Such a girl, dear boys, who possesses all the qualities should be well on her way to a successful and happy life. She should be set on a high pedestal for some young man to admire, honor and desire.

HERBERT CHANDLER,
GEORGE ROBERTS,
WESLEY WALKER.

HE'S MY IDEAL BOY - - -

From the Class of '48, we made a careful and thorough study of all the boys in the class and arrived at the conclusion that only by taking the outstanding qualities of certain boys and molding them into one can we get the ideal boy.

To this boy we are giving the physique of Evans Glover, the height of James Lassiter, the dark brown, wavy hair of Roland Watts, the teasing brown complexion of Robert Burrell, the laughing brown eyes of Charles Blalock, the mouth and provocative smile of George Roberts, accentuated by the aqualine nose of Julian Frazier. We have given him the captivating personality of Alton Sharper blended with the superb culture of Casper Lilly, and the par excellent intelligence of Thomas Cooke, enhanced by the scholastic ability of Owen Nichols. He will be the embodiment of the loyalty and sincerity of Wesley Walker, the trustworthiness of Clemuel High and the manliness like that of Lemuel Chalmers which produces the business ability of Clinton Copeland.

Believing that the possession of these qualities alone would only serve to make him more or less a "bookworm" and an antisocial being, we decided to give him some other traits that would make him a well-rounded personality; therefore, we are giving him the ability to "tickle the ivory" like Charlie Debnam and that "send me" crooner's voice of Spurgeon Fields. To this we add the "light fantastic toe" of Lewyn Weaver and the athletic prowess of William Wilder. Then we sprinkled in the sharp but sprightly wit of Garland Sewell and tempered it with the attentiveness of James Revis. We made him as handsome as Belvin Liles and as ambitious as James Stallings. These qualities will gain for him the popularity of Sam McGuire.

LOUISE MOORE,
GLORIA HART,
SHIRLEY CARNEY.

THE SENIORS A DEDICATION

With unremitting crescendo, the symphony of a life replete with melodic
progression, hastens to its finale. And a friendship that is ours to share,
with its "targos"
and "allegros"
moves ever lasting; onward
in sweet memories

ORCHIDS TO ADA

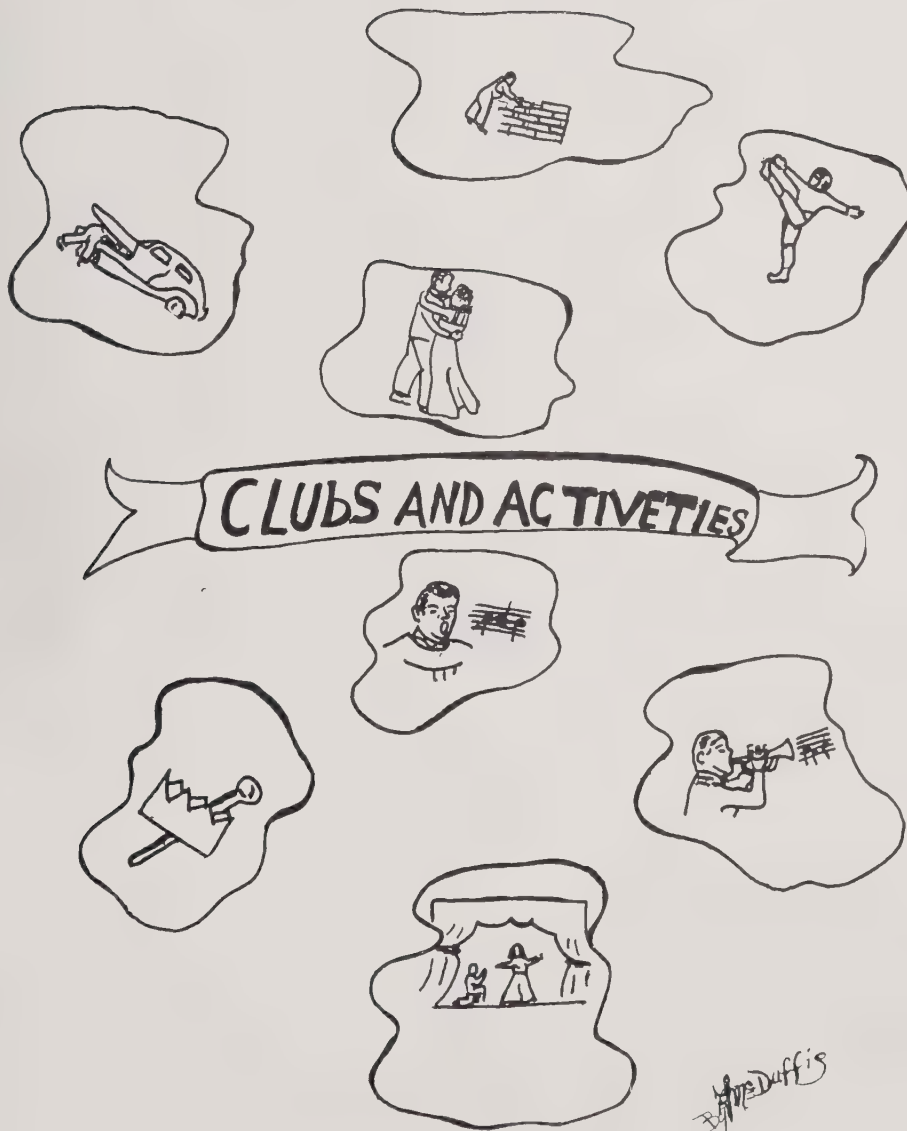

MISS ADA MARIE JARNAGIN AND MRS. HARRIET PRESSLY

Pictured above is Miss Ada Marie Jarnagin and Mrs. Harriet Pressly of Radio Station WPTF.

In the nation-wide essay contest conducted by the Quiz Kids radio program and Miles Laboratories during October and November of 1947, Miss Jarnagin was one of the lucky winners. The subject of the essay was "What America Means to Me." The prizes received by Ada were a Quiz Kids' Key, a certificate of merit and a brand new five-dollar bill. The prizes were awarded her at Station WPTF where she was interviewed by Mrs. Pressly.

This essay was proved to be a very definite contribution to the American Heritage Program.

The Student Council is the most effective means of leadership in our school. It gives the students a major hand in drawing up the rules and regulations of the school, thereby creating a democratic atmosphere.

Since the origin of the council Miss Maye Ligon, who is Dean of Girls, has advised and guided the members with a voice of "know how, when and where."

TIME FLIES—Before you know it, your girl or your boy will be a young woman or a young man ready for college.

WILL YOU BE READY?—There is no better, easier, or surer way to provide the necessary funds for the education of your children than through the Child's Educational Policy plan. See a North Carolina Mutual representative, have him explain the many excellent features of the Child's Educational Policy, and start your savings plan NOW!

Home Insulation!"

Say many of your neighbors—a few of whom are listed here.

HUNDREDS of home owners in this area have discovered the benefits of home insulation installed by trained specialists—cooler summers, warmer winters with fuel savings up to 30%.

For a list of other nearby home owners to whom we have brought greater Comfort and Fuel Savings, write or phone today.

Acknowledgments

To Our Parents, Patrons, the Faculty, Advertisers and Students:

Accept our sincere appreciation and thanks for your fine spirit of co-operation, your interest and your encouragement in this, the sixth edition of THE ECHO.

Your co-operation and participation is largely responsible for the successful publication of our "Treasured Echoes."

The editors gratefully acknowledge the specific contributions of the following:

Our new principal, Mr. McLendon, for his interest and swell co-operation.

Our advisors, Mr. Hill and Mrs. Perrin, who have guided our activities for four years in preparation for this venture and whose assistance, helpful instruction and supervision have been invaluable to us.

Mrs. E. L. Clark and Mr. R. H. Toole for their valuable assistance in proofreading, their criticisms and suggestions.

All classes, clubs and advisors for their fine co-operation and contributions.

Our patrons who have contributed so generously.

Miss Bugg, the school treasurer, for her excellent record of our finances.

Our classmates for their very fine spirit of co-operation.

To our parents grateful recognition is due, for they are the ones that pushed us on and brought us to the point where we can go into such a venture. Their co-operation is appreciated to the highest.

Finally, we acknowledge our professional associates:

Mr. Sessoms and the personnel of Mitchell Printing Company, who handled the printing.

The Laws and Cheek Studio who handled the photographs and made the pictures for the publication.
